AUSTRALIA — WELCOME TO NEW ZEALAND

We are delighted to welcome the Australian team and management to New Zealand for the first of two internationals between New Zealand and Australia (our away match will be held in Australia towards the end of July).

These two internationals are visible results of the closer ties that have developed between us. It is exciting that these internationals will become regular events.

It can only benefit the game in this part of the world.

WHAT ADSHEAD WANTS FROM HIS PLAYERS

New Zealand coach John Adshead has said many times that he picks a player to "do a job."

So what exactly does he want from his players who face Australia tonight?

SANDY DAVIE: Sandy's more than a goalkeeper, he's our fifth defender. He has the rare ability to control his back four. He makes certain the penalty area is his territory and is responsible for what his defenders do on his patch.

TONY SIBLEY: Tony will probably mark either Joe Watson or Peter Sharne who are quick and skilful. He's our quickest defender and it will be his job to steer his winger into blind alleys.

SAM MALCOLMSON: Sam set a very high standard against Norwich City. He struck a peak that Sibley or John Houghton never hit at their best in the middle of the defence. I expect Sam to look after their strikers as he did Norwich's Keith Robson and Justin Fanasbu.

BOBBY ALMOND: He's New Zealand's most classy sweeper. Playing behind the defence comes so naturally to him. He'll clean up anything that gets past the other three backs.

BRIAN TURNER: Turner is Turner. When he's given the freedom he'll get playing alongside Cole and Sumner he's at his best. He's looking as good as he's ever looked.

STEVE SUMNER: Steve will also be good value supporting the attack. Like Turner and Cole he can score goals coming into the penalty area. He's plenty of experience at international level.

ADRIAN ELRICK: Adrian is fast and skilful and will make sure his winger doesn't get behind the defence.

DUNCAN COLE: Alone with Steve Sumner this lad will be the engine room of the team. He works as hard as anyone. His work rate will allow Brian Turner to support forward. He's also useful on attack himself. He's scored a few goals this season.

KEITH NELSON: Keith's job is simply this . . . he's there to score goals, the duty he performs best. He'll be renewing an old rivalry with Australia's centre back Peter Wilson.

JOHAN VERWEIJ: He'll play a dual striking role with Keith. He's clever in the air and picked up some nice touches during his season in Europe with Feeyenoord (Holland). He needs to be more physical but he's proved he knows where the goal is.

ALF STAMP: He has more skill than any other footballer in New Zealand. I'll be asking Alf to use it for 90 minutes. He won't let us down.

DAVE BRIGHT: A good player to have in any squad. He can cover for me in midfield or defense.

FRANK VAN HATTUM: At 19 he's the best goalkeeper in his age group and a good insurance if Sandy gets injured. The Australian games will give me a chance to look at him at international level.

GARY PADDISON: Gary's a good player to have up your sleeve as a cover for Nelson and Verweij. He comes into his own after the game has settled and becomes fluid.

DUNCAN ORMOND: He will be used if New Zealand's bubble starts to burst. He has the work rate to save such a situation. We need someone who can finish strongly.

RICHARD WILSON: His year's experience in Europe has improved his game. He's now a sound performer. He played his way into the squad with consistent performances. He has a bright future.

MORE POSTBAG PROBLEMS

Heart rending Soccer problems continue to land on the kitchen table at RICHARD DAVIS' place. Just to show you that life isn't all kick-and-kiss for some, SOCCER POSTBAG reprints a handful of the more meaningful letters . . .

Dear Sir,
We tend to dominate a game but always seem to lose both points. What should our team do?
FRUSTRATED, Dunedin.

Dear Frustrated,
Stay well clear of Blockhouse Bay and things will come right.

* * * *

Dear Sir,
I am a 24-year-old striker who scored 87 goals for my first division side last season. Is there a place for someone of admittedly modest talents in New Zealand football?
STRIKER

Dear Striker,
Have enclosed the address of the Hanimex Club on Auckland's North Shore. They might find a use for you.

* * * *

Dear Sir,
Can you tell me the difference between goal difference and goal average?
MATHEMATICIAN

Dear Mathematician,
No I can't and the way Mount is going this year it won't matter anyway.

Dear Sir,
Does Keith Hobbs have the longest chuck in football. I have seen him reach the edge of the six yard box.
SHORITE

Dear Madam,
I didn't even know he drank.

Dear Sir,
When Manurewa was winning last season everyone talked about the Auckland club. But this year there hasn't been so much said about it. Has the lesson finally sunk in?
FRANKLINITE

Dear Frank,
No; but the scores have. And when did you lose your voice, anyway?

Dear Sir,
To suggest that Earle Thomas and Sam Malcolmson are over the hill is an insult to the sport I have loved for years.
